

Predict your future:

Productivity and Return with Analytics

Organizations like yours are realizing greater value from their business data when it's used to empower people. Traditionally this has meant a business analyst exposing historical data through spreadsheets and reports. Today, rapidly emerging cloud and mobile technologies are transforming the way information is displayed and used. Here's where CSG Pro can help.

CSG Pro's Analytics Dashboard Proof-of-Concept creates a secure, online tool displaying your actual data to the audience of your choice. We discuss your specific needs with key stakeholders and agree to a data set that we use to build visualizations. This beautifully designed, hardworking dashboard will provide visibility to key data and empower informed decisions that will reduce risk while staying ahead of the competition.

CSG Analytics Dashboard Proof-of-Concept (POC)

What you receive

DASHBOARD:

A secure, online data dashboard presenting up to three interactive visualizations of your own data, updated in near real time

DATA UTILITY:

A lightweight, on-premises software utility that can incrementally capture base data in near real time without impacting performance

STORAGE:

A high-speed cloud-based data cache that is accessible via the Internet for up to six months

USER ADMINISTRATION:

A tool to add or change users who have local access to the dashboard

How you benefit

- Use the data consultation session as a way to better understand business requirements from key stakeholders.
- See how your data can be transformed into actionable information with visualizations that make data trends easy to identify.
- Showcase the dashboard POC and data utility among team members, allowing them to accelerate decision making with innovative ways to use data differently.
- Let users interact with the dashboard POC to get a better feel for the information displayed, how they intend to use it to gain greater value for your business.

This offering is meant as a proof of concept to display what can be done on a larger scale. It's your data, your utility, and your dashboard to keep and use for six months.

How we deliver

CSG will lead a structured, multi-day proof-of-concept engagement with defined processes and deliverables, yet flexible enough to align with the client's culture. The analytics dashboard POC is customized for individual clients based on specific requirements.

What we need from you

The implementation time will largely depend on client availability. It is intended as a two-week development proof of concept, but relies on access to clean client data. To fit within the POC timeline, client data will be limited to a sample based on initial discussion. After the sample data is received, CSG Pro will build the utility, ensure data delivery to the cloud, and design the dashboard POC.
